Access to Library Services

Norton Rose Fulbright have library staff in 22 offices across Europe, the United States, Canada, Latin America, SE Asia, Australia and South Africa.

Our experienced global team can perform general research and locate materials on your behalf from an extensive range of hardcopy and online resources relevant to the jurisdictions and practice areas within which we operate.

A document delivery service is available and extracts from legal commentary can also be supplied. Practical advice on undertaking legal research and using resources effectively can be provided as well.

What information do we use?

- A comprehensive collection of journals, texts, reports, commentary and legislative materials reflect our firm's diverse practice areas
- Value-added online resources for legal, business, financial and industry specific data are available in the library

What type of information do we provide?

- Legislation and case law from all jurisdictions
- US, UK and international cases and legislation
- Journal articles for legal, tax, financial, medical and energy publications
- Securities industry information, including corporate information
- Commentary from texts, seminars and industry specific publications
- Treaties, arbitral awards
- Media research
- Research for patents, trademarks and intellectual property
- Factual and statistical research for a wide range of topics

Information is provided within Canadian copyright laws and third party vendor licensing agreements.
