Don Fairbairn

Chair of the Board
Transportation Investment
Corporation
Coquitlam

Don Fairbairn has over 35 years of infrastructure development and financing experience and has held leadership positions in the development, implementation and operation of transportation, electricity generation and transmission, pipelines, water treatment and accommodation projects. He has led acquisitions on behalf of corporate and pension fund investors and the creation of a successful non-profit initiative to develop supportive housing in the City of Vancouver. Mr. Fairbairn has board level governance experience in public, non-profit and private sector organizations.

Jesse Koehler

Director
Millennium Line Broadway
Extension Project, TransLink
Vancouver

Mr. Koehler is leading BC's largest transportation infrastructure project – a six-kilometre expansion to the SkyTrain system in Vancouver's Broadway corridor. Jesse's focus is moving the project from planning to procurement and construction, and managing the complexities of building sustainable infrastructure in a critical economic and urban centre.

Having previously led a variety of transportation projects for TransLink and the San Francisco Transportation Authority, Jesse brings extensive intergovernmental collaboration and decision-making experience, and new perspective to complex, multi-party technical and stakeholder processes.
